COVID-19

The Field Air Group is committed to maintaining a service to our customers during this current COVID-19 crisis, in accordance with all relevant government and health authority advice.

The following are some of the many measures that have been implemented across our sites:

- Staff essential to the provision of aerial agricultural services, the maintenance of aircraft and the administration and support of our Air Tractor dealership are travelling to/from home and work only.
- Staff who are able to carry out their duties from home are doing so.
- Barriers to entry have been erected on open hangars in Ballarat and at all sites customers are being directed to report to the respective reception area. Our preference is that any customers/ suppliers to phone ahead to discuss protocols regarding access before arrival.
- Increased personal hygiene and handwashing procedures have been implemented at our sites, including frequent sanitisation of our office and workshop
- Social distancing measures are being adhered to and our maintenance group has been broken into small groups with separate break and toilet facilities.
- All aircraft are being disinfected before and after maintenance.
- We are asking that all communication be carried out electronically via phone and email where possible.

We continue to monitor the situation closely and adapt our procedures accordingly.

Should you have any questions, please give our head office a call on (03) 5330 9330.
